A few words from the CEO...

What is the spiritual meaning of July? Sunny July's symbolic meaning signifies summer and all of its radiant glory in the Northern Hemisphere. As a child, school is out and the long days of light are filled with outdoor play, swimming, and all sorts of fun. When I think back to my youth during the summer months, I am reminded of tag, hop scotch, hide-and-seek, and other imaginative outdoor role-playing games that took up our entire block. We would frequently leave in the morning and not report back home until the street lights came on. What did you enjoy in the summer months in your youth?

Speaking of our youth...I hope you are all taking part in the photo contest occurring during the months of July and August. Photos of our residents in their younger days will be hung in the art gallery—your challenge is to guess who is who! I've had a tiny sneak peek and I think you're really going to enjoy it. I hope to see you at the reception on July 18.

"Warm" regards, Dee

Dear BSPers! It has been one year since I wrote in the Ambassador about issues regarding the BSP New Westport Library, which was inaugurated in April 2018. This library column will now appear quarterly, in the July, October, January, and April issues. If there are any subjects you would like me to address, please let me know.

Much has happened in a year! Residents have continued to donate books, and four new subject categories have been added: Books: Collecting, History, Language, Libraries, Etc.; Entertainment; Humor; Western Esotericism.

I will be sending out the sixth update of donations of books given to the library since January. If you have not put your email address in the directory and wish to receive this information, please send me your email address, which I will keep in confidence. This update will also include the forty+ new books I am donating in June. My contributions to the library are found in the three-ring binder on the shelf next to the sign-out binder.

Finally, I have recently donated three subscriptions to the Madison Library, all of which are in newspaper format and all of which will be renewed for years to come. They are: The Times Literary Supplement, The New York Review of Books, and The Art-Newspaper.

-Dr. Jeffrey Weidman

You might think the Fourth of July is all about freedom, and of course, it is. It's about what freedom is and is not.

So we're free to enjoy fireworks, but if we enjoy them in violation of local regulations, there may be consequences. We're free to have a raucous party, but if we neglect to invite our neighbors and carry on too loud and too long, there may be consequences. We're free to enjoy brats, burgers, BBQ, and beer, but if we overdo, there will definitely be consequences.

In short, our freedom—to celebrate or to do anything else—is limited by concerns for the safety of others and for our own well-being. Our founding fathers had this idea in mind when they drafted the Constitution and the Bill of Rights.

Long ago, St. Paul wrote a letter in which he made the point that freedom and self-indulgence are not the same thing. True freedom, he says, is freedom for a holy purpose: doing what is right; working for the good of all.

Have fun on the Fourth. While you're at it, feel free to think about freedom: what it means to us; how we use it; and perhaps how we might use it more kindly.

For freedom Christ has set us free ... through love serve one. (Galations 5:1, 13)

Our membership has grown to 12 plus two general advisory attendees! We gained many garden lovers this year who've added knowledge and new friendships to our group. We appreciate the help and advice of all residents.

I hope residents had the opportunity to appreciate the size and beauty of the clematis vines. They grow more beautiful each year. When those beetles arrive, don't forget to capture them in a container of soapy water. They will die, and those cannot return next year. If you're squeamish, use a long, stainless steel grabbing gizmo to capture the beetles. Sterilize the gizmo after use.

Our volunteers will continue and broaden last year's water chores in the garden. Each will be responsible for watering plants in pots and the birdbath, including necessary cleaning. A recent pleasure was to watch two bird fledglings bathe while a parent patrolled along the edge of the bath, occasionally popping a food morsel into an opened beak! Some members will also deadhead spent flowers. In times of drought. we will use the hose for the rest of the garden. We hope to preserve your continued enjoyment in walks through the Memorial Garden. Take some time to observe visits of the birds and butterflies, too.
