A few words from the CEO...

Hello and happy March!

March is the month that marks the first day of spring. I am personally ready for the longer days and the warmer weather. Until it gets warm enough to really get out in the gardens and enjoy outdoor activities, we still have a lot of things to do, see, and experience inside. Have you had an opportunity to take part in a spirited game of table tennis? Resident Clark Achelpohl is our ping-pong coordinator and would be happy to tell you when they are getting together in the Westport Room.

We also continue to have an amazing slate of performers, presenters, and educators that come and share their talents and insights with us.

March is also host to one of my favorite holidays—St. Patrick's Day! As an Irish girl, our family has always had fun on St. Patrick's Day, and I hope to bring some of that fun to our community here.

Happy Spring! Warm regards,

Dee

Chaplain's CORNER

This month we celebrate St. Patrick and no, I'm not talking about Patrick Mahomes, the guy who drove home our recent Super Bowl victory. I'm talking about St. Paddy, the guy who drove the snakes out of Ireland (among other achievements). It's been a gray, gloomy winter—have a little fun with the wearin' o' the green!

Many of us will also observe the season of Lent during March. In my early religion classes, Lent was mostly about dwelling on our sinful state and acknowledging the probability that we would never measure up as servants of God. Lent was not our favorite season, for obvious reasons.

Later on, I discovered that I was in good company. Abraham and Sarah were too old; Sampson was a womanizer; Jonah ran away from God; David was a murderer, Peter denied Christ; Martha worried about everything; and the disciples fell asleep while they were praying.

Lent is not about breast-beating. It's about taking time to contemplate the love of God made manifest for us in Jesus. We give thanks for the love we have received, we ponder our lapses of love, and we ask for the grace to grow in love as servants of the God who knows us and loves us, and who works through us, warts and wonders and all.

Blessings to all for the observance of a holy Lent.

—Chaplain Kathy Hall

Thoughtful Quote for BSP Folks

I've been absolutely terrified every moment of my life—and I've never let it keep me from doing a single thing I wanted to do.

—Georgia O'Keeffe

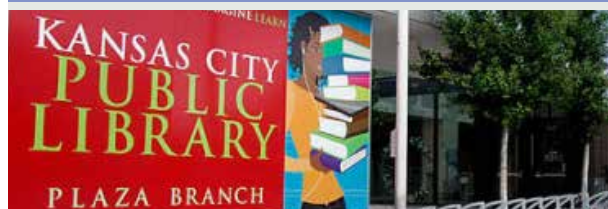

Garden TIME

Hooray for St. Patrick!
Even if you have only a tinge of Irish, the wearing of the green will allow you to be one of us on March 17, a Tuesday this year. If not, just pretend and enjoy the celebration! Cheer the morning parade and enjoy all the greenery abounding. Irish history in Kansas City began in the mid-1800s, when Irish immigrants helped shape the rocky terrain of Westport and Independence.

While you're up and about, stop by your Memorial Garden. There will be, at the least, different ground covers breaking through the everlasting mulch. The daffodils that were planted last fall have bravely endured their often snowy existence. They have remained alive, showing their bright green leaves.
